20:00	Symposium 9: Bone cancer pain
20:30		Symposium 10: Bone cancer pain
21:00	Symposium 11: Bone cancer pain

Symposium 7: Diabetes and bone

- 1 Lorenz Hofbauer (Dresden, Germany): Clinical evidence for interaction between diabetes and bone (ECTS Excellence in Clinical Research Lecture)
- 2 Ann Schwartz (San Francisco, USA): Diabetes and bone: mechanism of interaction

DEBATE

ECTS-ASBMR Debate:

Asymptomatic PHPT: to operate or not

- 1 Radu Mihai (Oxford, UK): For the motion
- 2 John Bilezikian (New York, USA): Against the motion

WORKSHOPS

Workshop 1: Adult forms of monogenic bone disorders

- 1 Östen Ljunggren (Uppsala, Sweden): Osteogenesis imperfecta, pathogenesis and treatment
- 2 Michael Whyte (St Louis, USA): Hypophosphatasia
- 3 Jens Bollerslev (Oslo, Norway): Lessons from human osteopetrosis

Workshop 2: Non-canonical Wnt signaling

- 1 Michael Kühl (Ulm, Germany): Non-canonical wnt signaling: an overview
- 2 Shigeaki Kato (Tokyo, Japan): Non-canonical Wnt signaling and the osteoblast-adipocyte lineage decision
- 3 Fanxin Long (St Louis, USA): On non-canonical Wnt signalling cascades: insights from osteogenic cells

Workshop 3: What have we learnt from cohort studies?

- 1 Jane Cauley (Pittsburgh, USA): Comparison to clinical trial information
- 2 Claes Ohlsson (Gothenburg, Sweden): Sex steroids in the regulation of bone metabolism in men
- 3 Eugene McCloskey (Sheffield, UK): The benefits of combining cohorts for mega-analysis

Workshop 4: New insights into sex hormones and bone

- 1 Lilian Plotkin (Indianapolis, USA): New roles for estrogen receptors
- 2 Dirk Vanderschueren (Leuven, Belgium): Androgen action and the male skeleton
- 3 Joanna Price (London, UK): Mechanotransduction: the role of estrogen receptors

Workshop 5: Imaging of the hip

- 1 Ken Poole (Cambridge, UK): Causes of fragility fractures of the proximal femur
- 2 Klaus Engelke (Erlangen, Germany): Comparative assessment of the performance of imaging techniques for the proximal femur
- 3 Christian Graeff (Kiel, Germany): Assessment of treatment of osteoporosis with QCT of the proximal femur

Conference Party
by invitation of the Mayor of the City of Vienna
WEINGUT FUHRGASSL-HUBER
